

SILICON VALLEY DESIGN

RONALD McDONALD HOUSE AT STANFORD

Where Hope Has a Home

By Mary Ann McEwan, ASID, CID, MBA

Several members of our chapter participated in the joint pro bono project between the San Francisco Design Center and Ronald McDonald House at Stanford (RMHS), creating beautiful and functional rooms for the families who will be staying there. In our previous issue we featured Melinda Mandell, ASID, Melinda Mandell Interior Design, who herself had been a patient at Lucile Salter Packard Hospital Stanford as a child, and therefore had a unique perspective. IP members who donated to her rooms were All Natural Stone, Cambria, Chairish, Rohl, Serena & Lily, Sonneman Lighting, and Valet Custom Cabinets and Closets.

Each of our additional designers featured here were inspired in various other ways.

TOP LEFT:
Melinda Mandell, Rm 208
Photography: Michelle Drewes

TOP RIGHT:
Melinda Mandell, Rm 209
Photography: Michelle Drewes

BOTTOM LEFT:
Melinda Mandell, Sitting area
Photography: Michelle Drewes